Hello@bloomery.co.uk Tel: 01386 854185 bloomery.co.uk

Where we are . . .

• Bloomery is located just outside of Broadway on the beautiful Farncombe Estate also home to Dormy House Hotel, The Fish Hotel and Foxhill Manor.

What we do . . .

- Workshops, weddings, events and local bouquet delivery.
- Workshops 8 workshops to choose from including; seasonal handtied bouquets, seasonal vase arrangements, Christmas wreath, summer wreath, dried flower bouquet, dried flower cloche, preserved moss wall art. Find out more here.
- Workshops are about two and a half hours, all equipment and materials are provide, the workshop includes refreshments and locally made cake. You take with you anything you make (full list of workshops available at www.bloomery.co.uk).
- I can create bespoke workshops for groups of up to 10 people, frequent independent travellers can book one of my scheduled workshops which will be available on TXGB, or direct bookings via phone or email.
- I'm also working with other local creatives to add workshops such as Chinese Calligraphy and modern embroidery.

How we do it . . .

- During British flower season (April October) we use flowers from our own cutting garden and buy from local growers.
- Don't use florists foam (Oasis) or cellophane instead we use chicken wire and moss and all bouquets are delivered in a glass vase for the recipient to keep.
- Floral foam (Oasis) takes 100's of years to break down and I don't want to start on what's it made from and the toxic gasses that it might produce as it does biodegrade. This is why when I decided to start my own business I went on a workshop with Philippa Craddock who created the flowers for Harry and Meghan's wedding, to learn how to use mossages instead of foam.
- Did you know nearly 90% of flowers bought in the UK are imported and the average supermarket flower can travel up to 3,000 miles before reaching your vase, not to mention the gases they're treated with to get them to last while they're travelling, which is why in season I buy as many flowers as I can from local flower growers to support the local economy and reduce my business's carbon footprint. Also UK flowers have more scent, they feed our UK bees and it's great to work with wonky stems that add more interest to an arrangement.

	the city's culinary heritage, with visits to independent food and drink artisans for samples of their produce.
	Tours are limited to 8 participants and we operate a schedule of 2 tours daily (morning and afternoon) Tues-Sat, with private tours available on request.
	Tours last 3 hours and offer a chance to sit and engage with Bath's culinary creatives at some of our visits.
	Our tour guides are all locally based and passionate about Bath and the city's food and drink scene.
	<ul> <li>Each tour includes around 7 visits and a meal worth of food and drink samples.</li> </ul>

- Our tours include Guilty Pleasures on weekday afternoons, Culinary Comforts and Local Flavours on Saturdays.
- But our most popular tour is Food Heroes on weekday mornings, which covers lots of culinary heritage with sample tastings of products that have been made in Bath for over 300 years.
- Private tours are all bespoke and we'll work directly with you to construct an itinerary which suits your clients' needs, to a capacity of 8-10 pax per group.
- The newest tour on our repertoire is the Cheese Tour of Bath.
- After completing 2 separate certificates of training with the industry recognised body, the Academy of Cheese, Savouring Bath's lead, Mike James brings his knowledge to provide an insight into some of the best West Country cheeses!
- This is a shorter tour at 1.5 hours and starts with a 'palette-training' when you'll learn to taste like a pro.
- On our cheese tour (and being in Somerset) there'll be the obligatory cheddar tasting, but we'll taste some of the best award-winning cheddars and using simple exercises like this you'll get to grips with what makes each so different
- There'll also be commentary on Bath's culinary history and recommendations of the best cheese options in town along with tastings of local cheese and a chance to experiment with cheese pairing.
- All our tours (except our new cheese tour) are commissionable
- We can offer a number of purchasing options including an affiliates scheme, reseller access to our booking portal, direct booking by phone or email, or channel management via your integrated distribution platform with TXGB
