

Glasgow Virtual FAM Trip

An aerial photograph of the Glasgow University campus and surrounding city. The foreground is dominated by a dense forest of green trees. In the middle ground, the main university buildings, including the iconic Glasgow University Main Building with its red sandstone facade and multiple spires, are visible. To the left, there are several green sports fields. The background shows the city of Glasgow with various buildings, including the Glasgow Science Centre and the Glasgow Arena, under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds.

What is the Burrell Collection?

The Burrell Collection is a world-class visitor attraction, located in Pollok Country Park, that has recently reopened following a multi-million-pound renaissance project.

The museum includes one of the finest collections of tapestries and stained glass in the world and one of Europe's finest collections of Degas. The renaissance project includes the refurbishment of the fabric of the building and the redisplay of the Collection. Each is internationally significant and together create one of the world's outstanding museums.
